BOARD OF MANAGERS NAMED BY HODGKINS

President of the Alumni Association Among Those Who Are to Direct Student Activities this Year.

VAN VLECK APPOINTED

Mrs. Joshua Evans has Unique Honor of Being First Woman to go on the Board.

Eight members have been appointed to the Board of Managers. President Hodgkins recently announced. The new board consists of Bryan Morse, chairman; Professor Doyle, representing the Arts and Sciences Division; Dr. Daniel S. Borden from Medical School; and Professor Van Vleck from Law. Mr. Samuel Herrick, president of the Alumni Association; and Mr. Joshua Evans as alumni representatives; Robert Cofresh and Bernard Burdick representing the student body.

Woman Alumnae Appointed.

In keeping with the increasing prominence of the co-ed faction, both in numbers and importance in general activity, a woman, Mrs. Joshua Evans, has for the first time in the history of the University been appointed to this important position. Mrs. Evans is also vice president of the Alumni Association and a graduate of Columbian College.

Board of Managers G. W. Senate.

The Board of Managers has final control of all student affairs. All appointments, appropriations, and resolutions must receive the approval of this body before being confirmed. Membership on the Board is the highest honor outside of academic honors that a student can receive. Those two student members, together with the most prominent members of the faculty and two members of the alumni, act as a University Senate. The University is to be congratulated upon the unusually high caliber of men who compose the board this year.

STUDENT COUNCIL HEAD RETURNS TO COLORADO

Business Forces Glenn Corbett to Return Home—Active in all Student Affairs.

Glenn Corbett, President of the Student Council, will probably not return to George Washington this semester. Business has called him to his home in Colorado. He was called there very unexpectedly and many of the undergraduates are wondering whether or not he will return to the University. Corbett lacks just one or two hours' work toward his LL. B. degree. The Student Council will meet and continue activities under Vice-president Preston Haynes until word is received definitely from Corbett. No new election will be held for president of that body.

While at G. W. U. Corbett has been extremely active in student activities. He was a member of the Council last year, and was vice-president of the Interfraternity Association during the previous year. He is an active member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity and also of Phi Alpha Delta Legal Fraternity. The success of last year's Junior Prom was largely due to his efforts.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO HAVE PAPER

In order to maintain a closer connection between the alumni of the university and school affairs, the executive committee of the Alumni Association has formulated plans for the publication of an alumni quarterly devoted to the interests of the graduates. Elmer Kayser, secretary of the University and a member of the executive committee, has been named editor of the new publication. He intends to get the majority of the current news of the colleges from the school publications.

The first issue of the quarterly will be published this month if possible. The first number is now nearing completion, and as soon as it is put out it will be mailed to all of the alumni whose names and addresses can be obtained.

DEAN FERSON WELCOMES LAW SCHOOL STUDENTS

I gladly avail myself of this opportunity to extend a word of greeting to our students, both old and new. Students are welcome in proportion to the zeal and seriousness with which they take up their legal study.

I commend our upper classmen for the excellent work they did last year. They maintained a high standard of honor and preserved the tradition that it is fashionable to work in this School.

I trust those older will imbue entering students with a similar morale, and that a great work may be done during the ensuing year in developing the character and attainments essential to success in the legal profession.

Merton L. Ferson,
Dean, Law School.

JIMMY PTAK TO LEAD G. W. GRIDIRONMEN

Elected to Fill Place Left Vacant by Resignation of "Dinty" Hughes.

"Jim" Ptak, George Washington's sterling left end, at a recent meeting of the football squad was unanimously elected captain, to take the place of "Dinty" Hughes, who finds it impossible to play this year.

"Jim" got his experience in the grid game out in Arkansas, and while he only weighs 152, he is poison to opposing backs, and his ability at snaring the forward pass is uncanny.

Besides being a great gridman, Ptak is an excellent student, being enrolled in the Law School, and a popular leader. In a recent talk to the football squad "Jim" said that he had not asked for the job, but getting it, he was going to give his best.

PROF. EARNS THIRTY-FIVE DOLLARS CATCHING FISH

Course in "The History and Habits of the Ancient and Modern Fish" to Substitute Mediaeval History.

College professors can beat the fisherman at their own profession is the conclusion drawn from the summer spent by one of the University professors of modern and mediaeval history. Laying aside the alliances of the Popes, the fall of Rome, the secession in France, and a thousand and one other things as recounted by Mr. Lodge and others, that have worried students for scores of years, this professor could be found almost any day last summer sitting on the stern deck of a little boat, one hand on the line, and the other turning the pages of a book entitled "Why the Fish Don't Bite."

Starting at 4.30 in the morning when many of his students were just returning from the "most wonderful date" his day lasted until after sunset. For pleasure, maybe, but when the ledger was footed up at the end of the summer a balance of $35 remained as profit from the sale of his 30-pounders. It is rumored that in the near future a course in "The History and Habits of the Ancient and Modern Fish" will be substituted for one in mediaeval history.

STUDENTS SEEK HATCHET STAFF

Nearly thirty students reported at the office of The University Hatchet Monday night to try out for positions on the staff. The majority of those who came to the meeting were girls.

These candidates are to be thoroughly tested at their ability for five issues of the Hatchet, after which about ten of the best will be given positions on the reportorial staff.

More staff dances and social functions were promised for this year by the editor. Last year three Hatchet dances were given at fraternity houses of the university and proved to be very successful.

INVITE FRESHMEN

Pi Beta Phi will hold open house on Thursday afternoon, October 5, from 4 until 6. All freshmen girls invited.

POWERFUL VIRGINIA TEAM SCORES FIVE TOUCHDOWNS ON G.W.

Hatchetites Suffer Many Injuries; Quarterback Willie Thomas Breaks Leg.

CAPT. PTAK MISSES TRAIN.

Quigleyites Present Stonewall Defense in Shadow of Goal—Successfully Complete Forward Passes.

By Robert H. McNeil.

Better conditioned and longer trained opponents, along with an overdose of hard luck, gave Virginia a 34-0 victory over the Hatchetites in a football game played at Charlottesville, Saturday, October 30.

Old Man Hard Luck got in his first lick at the squad of Buff and Blue warriors when he muffed recently elected Captain Jimmy Ptak's alarm clock, making him miss the train, depriving the team of his playing ability and leadership. Jim made a noble effort to arrive before the game, but on account of late trains, only managed to get there in time to hear the final whistle blow.

During the first quarter both sides resorted to the punting game, where G. W. had a trifle edge on its opponent until Clements made a weird pass, which put the Hatchetites on the defensive, where they stayed during the remainder of the game. Virginia was only able to make two first downs in this quarter and an attempt at drop kick from the thirty yard failed.

The Blue and Gold gained little during the early part of the second quarter. With four minutes before the end of the half the Virginians broke the ice by scoring on a long end run. Shortly after this the ball was worked up to the one yard line of the Quigleyites, where they successfully held four times only to be scored upon when Altrup, in attempting to kick, dropped the ball, which was recovered by Foster of Virginia.

Blocking a punt accounted for Virginia's touchdown in the third quarter. Shortly after this G. W. was handed its worst blow by Old Man Hard Luck, when Willie Thomas, who had played a stellar game as field general, broke his leg in being tackled while returning a punt.

SPANISH CLUB MEETS SOON; UNUSUAL PROGRAM PLANNED

All Interested in Spanish Eligible—Speeches, Dances, and Celebrations Planned.

El Circulo, the Spanish Club of George Washington University, will have its first meeting on Thursday, October 19, at 8 p. m., in the chapel, Lisner Hall, 2023 G street. This will be in the nature of an informal gathering at which the objects and plans of the organization will be briefly presented to the students. Arrangements are being made to have the instructors of Spanish make brief addresses, and from past experiences these have always been found delightful.

Any student of George Washington University who is interested in the Spanish language, literature, and art is eligible for membership, and will find the club a very good means of making the acquaintances of other students interested in the same things. For the coming year various programs are contemplated, and these will be supplemented by social functions to which, as in the past two years, different little Spanish touches will be added.

The present officers are very anxious that a large number of students attend the first meeting in order that they will then be prepared to come to the business meeting the first week in November at which the election of officers for the year 1922-23 will take place.

Team Managers Wanted.

Several positions as assistant manager of both football and basketball are open to day students or others who have time to give to the work. Applications should be submitted at once to Hillary Tolson, 1733 N Street N. W., chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Student Council.

SPHINX ANNOUNCES ELECTION OF TWO

Elizabeth Kendricks and Maxine Rolle Accorded High Honor—Have Been Active for Three Years.

The Sphinx Honor Society announces the initiation of Elizabeth Kendricks and Maxine Rolle, both of whom were elected at the regular fall election.

Elizabeth Kendricks, one of the most brilliant girl leaders of the campus during the last few years, through whose efforts a branch of the Y. W. C. A. was firmly established as a permanent organization among the various activities of the school, has now been elected the president of the Women's University Club. She has but lately returned from the Y. W. C. A. conference at Eggesmere, N. Y., to which she had gone as the official representative from the Y. W. C. A. of this city.

Maxine Rolle has been an officer in her freshmen class and secretary of her sophomore class, has managed the finances of the university branch of the Y. W. C. A. as its treasurer. Almost immediately after her election to the society she was elected to take an important post as its secretary.

The honor of election to Sphinx is accorded only to girls who have an unusually high scholastic average and who have been exceptionally active in all student affairs.

FRESHMEN WILL WEAR CAPS, SOPHS DECLARE

Annual Tug of War to Decide if Upper Classmen Can Enforce Rules.

Caps for the freshmen! This seems to be the motto of the sophomores this year. Can the sophomores force the freshmen to wear caps? Never, say the freshmen, but the sophomores point to their victory in the annual tug of war last year, and say they can do it again, only it will not be the sophomores who "get the hose" this year. If the sophomores fulfill their prediction all sorts of dire consequences will be imposed upon the frosh.

While the dignified sophomore is outnumbered almost two to one, they repeat the famous motto, "quality, not quantity is what counts." "Babe" Fly, president of the class, while revealing none of the plans of the sophs, intimated that the sophs were ready and able to impose properly humiliating conditions upon the lowly freshmen, and further stated that the school in general, and the freshmen in particular would know the sophomores are alive this year. Fly, it will be remembered, had some hours while plodding slowly home through Virginia mud last year to decide that the sophomore class of last year was certainly alive.

The burning question will be decided in the annual Soph-Frosh tug-of-war on the White Lot in the near future. In the meantime both classes are marshaling their forces, and the frosh in particular are preparing for their class election which promises to be interesting.

GIRLS, ATTENTION!

All freshmen girls are invited to a luncheon given by the Sphinx Honorary Society on Saturday, October 7, at 12.30 on the back campus. Luncheon a plenty, a good time, and a chance to get acquainted with not only the girls in the class, but also the most influential seniors and juniors in the school is offered.

1750 STUDENTS MUST SIGN ACTIVITIES TAX

Only 250 Students Out of a Necessary 2,000 Have Signed.

DRIVE DELAY HARMFUL

General Student Assistance has Succeeded Before; Planned to Have Their Help Again.

Announcement has been made recently by the Director of Student Activities that but two hundred and fifty students have signed the Voluntary Activity Tax. Considering the large enrollment of the University, and the rejuvenated interest in the activities, this figure is considered appallingly low.

The budget of the Board of Managers requires at least twenty thousand dollars to finance the student activities program as it has been outlined. The athletics, publications, debating teams, dramatic ventures, and other interests depend almost wholly upon the money derived from the tax, and failure to provide for them financially will cause their abandonment.

The University depends upon the student activities for the major part of its publicity, and the students look to them for some diversion from scholastic duty.

Last year the Student Council took entire charge of the activities tax campaign, as it had in previous years. A member of the council was appointed to take active charge of the collection of the tax. He organized a committee, who, with himself, went among the students and canvassed for signers to the activity cards.

In 1921 prizes were offered to students who obtained the most signers. This plan proved very successful and enlivened student interest in the campaign. The students who undertook to obtain subscriptions took various places around the school, as in the door of Lisner Hall, and some of them devised novel means of attracting their prospects.

At present the Student Council has referred the tax problem to the Board of Managers for their consideration, but it is expected that some further steps will be taken by the council at its next meeting, Wednesday evening.

According to a number of prominent student officers, plans are being considered to urge students of the school, especially those in the various organizations, as sororities and fraternities, to aid the student officials in the collection of the tax this year.

TAX CAMPAIGN BEFORE BOARD OF MANAGERS

Student Council to Elect Football Manager to Succeed Noble Johnson Next Wednesday.

The Student Council held an organization meeting last Monday night in Lisner Hall, at which time plans for the coming year were discussed. The council seemed very much concerned about the lack of interest taken in the activity tax subscriptions, and as the matter of obtaining subscriptions is one of the functions of the board of managers, it was decided that a committee of three council members, with Harold Norcross as chairman, wait upon the board of managers and offer the council's cooperation.

The next meeting of the council will be held in Lisner Hall on Wednesday evening, October 11, at 8.15. The election of football manager to succeed Noble Johnson will be held. Johnson has sent word that he will not return to the University this year. All applications for football manager, together with the individual's qualifications, should be sent to Hillary Tolson, chairman of the athletic committee, 1733 N street N. W., prior to the night of the meeting.

MEN'S TENNIS TRYOUTS HELD IN NEAR FUTURE

Manager Viens announces that plans for a fall tennis tournament are progressing rapidly. It is expected to get play under way by the middle of October.

Captain Miller, Dean of the Engineering College, will again be in charge of the coaching end of this activity. It is hoped by holding the tournament in the fall to get a line on the best material for a team and thus get an earlier start in the spring. All interested should see Manager Viens for details.

A Real G. W. Hero

University of Virginia defeated George Washington University 34-0 in the opening game of the season at Charlottesville last Saturday. No better score could be expected from G. W.'s inexperienced team in a contest with such a strong opponent. They are to be commended. Coach Quigley will have a far better eleven on the gridiron before the season is much farther advanced.

The regrettable accident to Willie Thomas, quarterback of the Buff and Blue eleven, however, was far more bitter than the loss of the game in its effect upon the team and the whole school.

Thomas, who is also a former high school football star, played an excellent game up to the middle of the third quarter, when, as he was returning a punt he was tackled by one of the Virginians, and in falling his leg was broken.

His conduct after he was hurt proves that all there is of him is pure grit and nerve. He was carried off the field smiling, and received more cheers from the Virginia students than they gave to their own team when they won the victory.

Too much praise can not be given the plucky little quarterback, for besides showing his own worth, he also added to the reputation and prestige of the school he represents.

A Precedent Established

Mrs. Joshua Evans has been appointed to represent the alumni on the Board of Managers. Mrs. Evans was very prominent in school life while she was at the University, and will realize the needs of the student body.

A precedent has been laid down in the appointment of this lady. Never before in the history of the board has a woman been a member of it. The change is certain to be beneficial.

Girls are taking a more active part in student activities with every passing year. A woman on the board will be able to understand the problems that will come up with reference to this growth, and that body will thereby be better able to bring them to a solution that will be for the best interests of the University.

The New Football Captain

Efficient leadership is the keynote of success in every human undertaking. More certain is this fact evidenced in a football team than in any other organization. For this reason it is essential that the utmost care possible be taken before a team selects its leader.

With all this in view the G. W. squad has elected James Ptak, one of the best ends in this section of the country, to succeed "Dinty" Hughes as its captain. "Dinty," former pivot man, was compelled to resign the captaincy because it interfered with his class work. The football men have lost a valuable and capable player.

"Jimmie" has shown his ability to lead, to make the men strain every muscle in the effort to win. He is himself an experienced football player and knows the game thoroughly. In addition he is very popular with his team-mates.

An unusually large number of changes have been made in the student officers of the University this fall. New officers are being elected to step into the shoes of the old ones, but no organization will make a wiser selection to fill its vacancies than the football team did in electing "Jimmie" its captain.

To the Uninitiated!

To rush or not to rush; that's the question to-day!

Have you seen those crowds of collegiates grouped around the steps, or hanging valiantly onto the fence, or nobly supporting a tree in front of 2023 G street, with two or three unfortunates as the center of attraction? Perhaps they are on the verge of inviting the hungry-looking fellows up to the "house" to dinner; or, if it's chronic, they're offering to lend their rhetoric themes or economics notes. But after all, any method is called by the same name. All these gentle persuasions are known as "rushing."

A novice's first visit to a "house" is generally as lax in suspense as the "Bat" and as cheerful as a damp day. If he is lucky and somebody he knows is there, he gets his hand pumped off by every man present, and his so-called "friend" nearly talks him to death explaining what fine fellows they were who just maimed him for life. If he doesn't find the man who asked him around, he generally exposes his back teeth in an asinine grin and talks about the weather or the women.

To any man who is contemplating such a visit, let me pass on some recently acquired knowledge, and recommend that he have all his best jokes at the tip of his tongue. They go great! One recent rushee claimed he got his "bid" by walking right up to the fellows in their own house, and telling them in his loudest voice how good an athlete he was, what his high school English teacher thought of him, and what the fraternity would lose if they didn't get him. And he claims they turned pale and asked him to join right on the spot in trembling, supplicating voices. This method is open to anyone who may wish to try it.

But if a man laughs at the other fellow's jokes, and can last through their smokers without passing under the table or being carried out, he ought to blossom forth on the campus in a few days with his button hole adorned with a scratched-up square on a pale blue shield, or a pointed triangle, or some wiggling worms.

One of our most famous athletes requests that through this column all freshmen be asked to wear a thin green ribbon in their button holes. This will make the girls curious and therefore the frosh popular, and will prevent him from asking any more juniors who have been fraternity men for three years up to his "house" for dinner.

Just one more word, and that is, don't be worried because the word sounds rough. They who "rush" you won't hurt you—at least not until later.

STUPID SLAVE SAYS:

The originator of "Stupid" has left school. The University has enjoyed his work very much, and it is hoped that the new editor of this important column will take up the work where he left it and continue to make it a reflection of the humor of the student body.

Students are cordially invited to send in letters bearing on any important question from love to how to make good likker out of ink.

STUPE.

Oh, ye flappers; ye flappers. We ridiculed your bobbed hair and your bobbed skirts. But now, but now. We will no longer have ever before us the sheen of your silken hose, but will have to concentrate our attention upon any nearby "car stop."

Remember that the Official News Organ of the University is the Hatchet, not a hammer.

According to the number of college boys and girls one meets on F Street, there must be either a lot of colleges on that boulevard, or else very few collegiates in the colleges.

Some of the co-eds were on the verge of suggesting that there be a course in flapperism given in the University. But the long skirts have changed their minds.

Yes, we are writing a good deal about the long skirts. We are not able to write what we say, however.

One could say, so long short skirts, how long? long skirts.

It hath been rumored that bustles are coming in again.

The Hatchet this year should really be more brilliant, because the Hatchet office is now better illuminated. This light that shines from the Hatchet should benefit the students. Don't you think?

The spring of the year brings out pretty flowers and fancy bugs. The fall of the year brings out the co-eds and the freshmen.

The playful freshmen of last year caused a new window to be put in the Hatchet office. Those inside can now tell whether the sun is shining or not by looking through said new window pane.

The Hatchet is not the only place that has something new. Did you notice where the University's offices are now located? Oh, my, yes; they have been taken from Lisner Hall.

No member of the Hatchet staff will be accused of having cold feet this year. They have a gas heater now.

One of the juniors got lost on the new campus. Someone says that it is now big enough to grow a little corn on next spring.

It is suspected that the reason for so many of the students wearing golf togs is because they can't get bags in their knees when they play the ancient game of African golf.

Two years of normalcy, and the only things that have gone down are the ladies skirt.

Dear Stupid Steve:

I am a freshman. I dearly love an upper class co-ed. I fear me that my love will not be required if she learns I am naught but a frosh. What shall I do?
J. T. W.

My dear J. T. W.:

Your letter has touched my heart. I will gladly tell you what to do. Do as follows:

Act as if you were kind of sick. Appear to be bored at everything. Walk as if you were trying to give an impersonation of a question mark.

Follow these directions and she will think that you are a senior or at least a junior, and thus you can keep her from finding out what you really are.

QUARTERBACK THOMAS SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Two Others Listed Among the Injured. All on Road to Recovery.

Saturday's contest was marred by the accident to "Willie" Thomas, the Hatchette's little quarterback. After playing a wonderful game for three quarters, "Willie" was returning a punt toward the end of the third quarter when he was thrown by a hard tackling Virginian and received a compound fracture of the left leg just above the ankle.

Thomas, who was a star at Eastern High of this city some years ago, weighs but 118 pounds, and is all nerve and grit. Throughout Willie was perfectly calm and was able to smile as he was carried off the field. Virginia, quick to recognize his bravery, cheered louder than they did their own victory.

The loss of Thomas will be a blow to the Buff and Blue backfield, as he was a brainy player and a quick thinker; just the right type to direct the action of the team on the field.

Two other members of the Buff and Blue eleven suffered accidents in the game with Virginia. Buckheister, right guard, early in the game badly bruised his left knee, and the succeeding plays only aggravated the trouble and was forced to leave the game in the middle of the last quarter. Pryor, full back, along toward the end of the first half, became troubled with difficulty in breathing, and after examination at the close of the game found that he had acquired two broken ribs.

All are resting comfortably, and are mending as fast as can be expected.

GIRL G. W.'S TO START FUND

To strengthen sports among the women at G. W., to add one or two others, to start a fund for a gymnasium with a $1,000 goal this year, are the immediate aims of the Woman's G. W. Club, which will be discussed at a meeting of the Executive Council, to be held Friday night, October 6. Any girl that has received her G. W. in any sport, major or minor, is eligible for membership and may become a member by applying to the club. The dues are $1.00 a year, or $3.00 for a life membership.

The club is governed by the president and secretary-treasurer, together with an executive council, composed of the chairmen of the standing committees.

The officers and council are: Miss Martha McGrew, president; Miss Theodosia Siebold, secretary-treasurer; basketball, Miss Louise Worster, '16; tennis, Miss Helen Hosford, '21; Gymnastics, Nelda Umbeck, '22; swimming, Miss Lasalia McCaffery-Appel.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN MEET OCT. 10 IN LAW SCHOOL

Membership Open to G. W. Girls Who Have Been at the University at Least One Year.

Mrs. John T. Erwin, the president of the Columbian Women of George Washington University, has announced the first meeting of the coming season for Tuesday, October 10, at 4 o'clock, in the Alumni room of the Law School, 1435 K Street N. W. The hostesses will be the House Committee; Mrs. John R. Lapham, chairman, Mrs. Robert Whitney Bolwell, and Mrs. Charles H. Willcox. There will be a social half-hour, followed by the business meeting and the reading of the history. Refreshments will be served.

Membership in this organization is open to alumnae of the University, wives of faculty members, and girls still in college, provided they have spent at least one year in the University. Girls who join it are thus given an opportunity to meet socially not only prominent alumnae, but also the wife of the president of the University. Mrs. Hodgkins, who has always taken a deep interest in the Columbian women, the wives of nearly all the members of the faculties of Arts and Sciences and the Law School, and of many of the professors in the Medical School, and many of their fellow students. Meetings are held monthly, with addresses by distinguished speakers and artists.

The Columbian women maintain scholarships for girl students. The membership fee is $1.00 a year, with an initiation fee of 25 cents. Any member of the organization will be glad to propose suitable candidates for membership.

The present officers of the Columbian Women are as follows: President, Mrs. John T. Erwin; vice presidents, Miss Alice Henning, Mrs. Myron M. Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. DeWitt C. ## GIRLS ON PUBLICATION IN JOURNALISTIC SOCIETY

Gamma Eta Zeta is Now Petitioning National Society for Charter.

Not to be outdone by the men at George Washington University, the girls who are interested in journalism and who are working on the University publications, have formed an honorary journalistic sorority, Gamma Eta Zeta, and are now petitioning Theta Sigma Phi for a charter of the national sorority. The members are: Janeiro V. Brooks, Mary A. Brown, Caroline E. Peterson, Ardis Smith, Nelda Umbeck, and Elizabeth Whitfield.

Although organized last year, and work gotten well under way, announcement was postponed until this school year, the opinion being that it would be of more importance at this time. There is, of course, a great deal of honor attached to the fact that one may have a position on anyone of the publications, and it is believed that an honorary journalistic sorority at the University will cause the girls to do even better work than before, in order to be considered as possible members of the organization.

GIRL SIRENS TRYOUT IN CHAPEL TO-DAY

Tryouts for the girls glee club will be held in the chapel to-day, October 6. All girls are invited to attend this meeting, which is the first of the year. The number of members will be limited to about twenty girls. Theresa Lawrence, president, promises an interesting program for the first as well as all following meetings.

The following officers were elected last spring: Theresa Lawrence, president; Mabelle Bennett, vice-president; June Cooper, secretary; and Catharine Hough, treasurer.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINS

The G. W. Chapter of the Y. W. C. A. held an unusually entertaining get-together meeting last Wednesday night. A large proportion of the University girls were present, and a novel program was presented.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held in Lisner Hall at 8 p. m. October 10. All interested in Y. W. C. A. work are requested to be present.

Phi Sigma Opens Season.

Phi Sigma opened its social season on Saturday, September 30th, with a tea held at the Women's University Club rooms. All the girls in the University were invited.

START TAKING CHERRY TREE PICTURES AT ONCE

Regulations as to Dressittings to be Made is Given.

Pictures for the Cherry Tree will be taken during the month of October and November at Edmonston Studio, 1407 F Street N. W., according to an announcement made by Robt. H. McNeill, business manager.

Seniors of all colleges, members of all fraternities and sororities, members of publication staffs, and other organizations, will have sittings made. This year, at least, seniors will have their pictures taken in cap and gown, fraternities and sororities in evening dress, while the others will be taken in civilian clothes.

It was pointed out by the business manager that the sooner the pictures are taken the better will be the work done at the studio, at the engravers, and will enable the printer to deliver the book on time. For this reason all are urged to have their pictures taken as soon as possible.

ASSOCIATE REGISTRAR RECENTLY APPOINTED

Miss Linda J. Kincannon has been appointed associate registrar. Because of the appointment of Miss Anna Rose to the position of Dean of Women, the addition of another registrar was made necessary. Miss Kincannon has been one of the secretaries of the local Y. W. C. A. for a number of years, and is well qualified to relieve the former congestion in the registrar's office.

ENGINEERS TO MEET SOON

The first meeting of the Engineering Society will be held as soon as Arthur Lanigan, the president, returns to school. Mr. Lanigan has been on a surveying trip in Denver, Colorado, this summer. It is expected that he will return about October 7.

Alpha Delta Granted Charter

Alpha Delta Sorority has been granted a charter from the Delta Zeta Fraternity. The installation took place on September 22. After the ceremony a delightful banquet was given to celebrate the installation.

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS PLANNED FOR GIRLS

Basketball Plans not Yet Completed; Brilliant Season Promised. Board of Managers to Consider Swimming Team.

Tennis plans for the season 1922-23 are well under way. More than twenty girls so far have signed up, and Manager Elliot urges that all interested sign promptly, as the paper, now in the girls' room, will be taken down shortly.

Miss Elliot's plan is to conduct a fall tournament, the four best players to form the team next spring, when they will vie for the silver loving cup presented each year by the Columbian Women. Many evidently have realized that it is a trophy well worth a struggle.

Basketball plans have not been completed this far in advance of the season, but Manager Brewer and Coach McGrew are making preparations for an unusually good schedule. While no official census of prospective players has been taken, yet judging from the large number interested who are making inquiries of officials, a record team may be anticipated.

Girls' swimming will be even more successful a sport this year than it was last, if indications mean anything. Definite plans will be made at the next meeting of the Board of Student Managers, when the sport will receive official sanction and support.

FREE LANCE CLUB MEETS

G. W. RIFLE TEAM AGAIN WIN MATCHES

Without Facilities Riflemen Build Own Range on Farm in Virginia.

STOKES' RETURN TO U.S.

Victory is Scored Over Georgetown and Good Showing Made Against Navy and Professional Teams.

With a string of victories never before accorded to a rifle team in the collegiate world, the George Washington marksmen are returning to practice this month. Their early training and tryouts will probably be held in the National Guard Armory until a suitable range can be established for them elsewhere.

During the past winter the team was restrained from entering many matches because of the lack of proper facilities, but when the weather became favorable for outdoor shooting, the members of the team, taking shovel and pickaxe, built themselves a private range on Smith's farm. Here they easily won the small-bore outdoor collegiate championship, no dangerous competition being offered. The score of the first team was 1,940, while our second team took second place with a score of 1,910.

Early in the summer Captain Stokes entered the first team in the national open competition where it won second place, defeating the professional teams from several arms manufacturing companies. The honor connected with this event is considerable, it being nearly equivalent to an international contest.

Just before the final examinations the heavy caliber team shot a match at the Naval Academy where it was nosed out of first place by the Navy. But the tang of this defeat was allayed by the consideration that while the middies are driven to the outdoor range three and four times a week the George Washington men can practice only on Sunday mornings, and then but twice a month. The scores of other colleges entered in this match were incomparably low.

The only local match which the team entered was the one in which we defeated Georgetown. Although our team won by a playful margin, the Hill-toppers offered some interesting competition.

Walter Stokes, captain of the team, returns to the University this month after winning the individual rifle championship of the world at Milan, Italy, for the second consecutive time.

PUNTS AND PASSES

When Oil Manson received the ball on the initial kickoff, he squeezed it so hard that the blooming sphere busted. A new ball was produced and amid much cheering the game went merrily on.

G. W.'s many injured were nobly taken care of and brought off the field by the Theta Delta Chi "ambulance" corps, composed of Francis Brown and Dale Fisher.

Dr. Daniel L. Borden, the University surgeon, had his hands full looking out for the crippled members of the team. Besides Thomas's broken leg, Buckheiser severely wrenched his knee, Horany suffered an injury to his knee and Pryor was treated for two broken ribs.

Members of the squad thought that they were leaderless Saturday, for when they counted noses on the train on the way down they found that both the captain and manager were missing. It later developed that Manager McNeil had gone on an earlier train, while Captain Ptak missed his connection.

VIRGINIA SCORES FIVE TOUCHDOWNS.

completed its scoring by making a touchdown on a twenty-yard run.

Although the whole squad did great work, the playing of Thomas, Horany, and Pryor in the backfield, and Altrup, Corbin, and Buckheiser in the line, stood out as best.

An interesting feature of the game was the success each team had in its passing game. Virginia attempted eight passes and was successful in two attempts and one was intercepted, while the Hatchettes attempted but four, with three successful, one being intercepted.

PREVIOUS REGISTRATION RECORDS ARE SHATTERED

Proportion of Day School Students Increased Over Former Years, Held to Be Good Sign.

About thirty-five hundred students have registered at the University according to the most recent figures from the office of the registrar. This is far in excess of the registration of last year.

In the year 1921-22 approximately forty-seven hundred students registered for the fall and winter semesters, and around one thousand enrolled in the summer school. This brought the total enrollment up to nearly six thousand.

The great majority of these students entered the afternoon and evening classes. This year the proportion of students enrolled is estimated to have increased in the day school. Student officers are very much pleased at this change in the ratio as day students are always better able to enter the field of student activities.

Certain requirements as to a maximum enrollment are placed upon the Medical School by the American Medical Association, and so that school was compelled to turn down about fifty per cent of the applications turned in by prospective students.

Those requirements are made in order to raise the standard of the medical profession by compelling the schools to have smaller classes and thus give more individual instruction.

The Law School, which is rated as one of the highest law schools in the United States, has felt the increase more keenly than any one else. The freshman law class is more than double the size it was at this time last year.

Officials of the University feel confident in estimating an enrollment of nearly six thousand students for the fall and winter sessions and an enrollment of at least one thousand for the summer session. This would make a total enrollment of very near seven thousand, the biggest in the history of the school.

LAW SCHOOL RECEPTION DRAWS BIG ATTENDANCE

Annual Law School Reception Follows Custom Many Years—Raymond Wisheart in Charge.

Following the custom of many years standing, the annual reception of the George Washington Law School was held on the opening night of the school year. The program and arrangements were under the auspices of the Law School Senate, of which Raymond Wisheart is president. It was an occasion for renewed greetings between the upper classmen and the faculty, and at the same time it afforded an opportunity for the first-year men to meet and know the older men. At various times during the evening one could note the fraternity representatives looking over the field for possible "rushes" and making off with one or two of them for quiet and persuasive conversation.

The program of the evening which was rendered in one of the upper classrooms, lasted about an hour, after which everyone adjourned to the library where refreshments awaited them and where the reception resolved itself into a general "mixer."

President Welcomes Law Class.

The exercises included an address of welcome by President Hodgkins, who remarked upon the high standards of scholarship in the University and its standing among other universities. Dean Ferson gave a short resume of the work in the school and announced the prize winners of the past year. Mr. Joseph W. Cox, president of the Law School Alumni, spoke of the opportunities in the legal field to-day, and the reputation made by law graduates of G. W. U.

Edward Scheufler, president of last year 1924 class, welcomed the new students in the name of the student body, and urged upon all the necessity of real school and class spirit. Professor Alvin E. Evans was welcomed to the school faculty and in response told of his work in Idaho.

FRAT AVERAGES TO BE DISCUSSED BY FACULTY

Faculty to Confer With Fraternity Representatives in Near Future.

A meeting of the deans of the University and representatives of the various fraternities will probably be called in the near future to discuss the averages of the fraternities.

President Hodgkins has collected statistics concerning the relative scholastic standing of fraternity men and women in the Department of Arts and Sciences. Last year the general average of the students was 84.9; the general average of all women, 86.8, and of all men, 83.4. The general average of women's national fraternities was 86.4, and of men's national fraternities, 79.9.

In compiling these statistics 14,453 marks of students were used, 7,939 of which were marks of men and 6,514 marks of women. These included 978 marks of fraternity men and 1,069 marks of fraternity women. Only students in the Department of Arts and Sciences were considered in the obtaining of these averages, and they do not, therefore, apply to students in the other departments of the University.
